

COMPANY
REPORTING

Meaningful real-time
company-wide reporting

Effectively plan, strategise and manage your company

Many companies struggle to generate meaningful reports. Some companies have to pay for reports to be written by consultants or dedicate staff members to the sole purpose of creating reports manually using spreadsheets. As well as the issue of inaccuracy and human error, the length of time to compile and analyse the data, means very often the report is out of date by the time it is presented to management.

If you have no way of generating meaningful and accurate company-wide reports it is very likely to pose you serious issues; how do you develop your business strategy without having reliable company performance data at your disposal?

At a glance

-  Real-time data to provide live results

Want further capabilities to report on company performance?

Business Intelligence (BI) is an optional module that helps you identify which areas of your business operation are efficient and profitable, and which areas require improvement in order to increase business success.

BI extracts live data from your prof.ITplus system to provide instant results on virtually any area of your business, and presents this information in easy-to-view dashboards and charts.

The information generated by prof.ITplus Business Intelligence will also enable you to identify how you can achieve the improvement your business needs for greater profitability and efficiency.

Superior reporting functionality for your business.
